

FY2024 JISHA

Asia Occupational Safety and Health SAKURA Project

Supported by Japanese Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare

Thai course Application Guidelines

JISHA supports OSH activities of
Japanese affiliated companies in Asia

Support Overview

JISHA provides a set of two types of support : One is ‘OSH Basic Training in Japan’ where OSH experts teach their know-how and experiences for preventing labor accidents, and the other is ‘Follow-up Training in Thailand’ to support on-site OSH activities.

(1) OSH Basic Training in Japan

JISHA aims to improve abilities of staff who are in charge of OSH management in Japanese overseas affiliated companies by teaching practical activities of industrial sites in Japan, such as OSHMS (Occupational Safety and Health Management System), Risk Assessment, Zero-Accident Activities, Health Promotion and 5S Activities.

(2) Follow-up Training in Thailand

JISHA dispatches an OSH expert to your workplace from Japan and provides advice and guidance for a few hours depending on the situation at job sites to promote on-site OSH activities.

These days, the number of Japanese companies starting their operation in Asian region is prominently increasing. However, there are some cases where the lack of information and experiences leads to insufficient OSH in overseas bases of the companies.

Therefore, JISHA conducts this project to prevent labor accidents and raise the safety awareness of the local employees by introducing know-how and experiences in OSH field, which have been built up in Japan for a long time, into OSH activities of Japanese affiliated companies.

*If the coronavirus infection etc. spreads worldwide again, this project may be canceled or held online.
